

Contents

Preface	i
Articles
Seeing Aboriginal history in black and white: the contested history of the Stolen Generation Arielle De Bono	1-8
Failing to address issues of interest for Aboriginal Australians in the 2016 Federal election campaign Rashini Suriyaarachchi	9–16
A historical analysis of the economic marginalisation of Aboriginal people and the ruralisation of Aboriginal issues Matthew Byers	17–23
Man, Animal, Other: the intersections of Racism, Speciesism and Problematic Recognition within Indigenous Australia Elena Wewer	24–31
Beyond Genocide: a comparative analysis of the elimination of Australia’s Indigenous people Thomas Crotty	32–37
Modernity to Makarrata: Australia Through the Post-Colonial Lens Daniel Cunningham	38–43
Native Title vs. Land Rights: is change more effective when it is achieved through social and political activism or the courts? Mia Dabelstein	44–49
Rethinking Western perceptions of Indigenous knowledge and economy Alex Menyhart	50–55
Post-Colonial Australia: Fact or Fabrication? Isabella Saunders	56–61

- Can the international human rights framework improve the rights of Indigenous Australians?
Christina Crawford 62–67

Reviews

- Samson and Delilah* revisited
Jacinta Bailey 68–71
- An outstanding debt: Noel Pearson's A Rightful Place. Race, Recognition and a more complete Commonwealth
Zoë Carney-Chapus 72–74
- The tragedy of Jacob by Dena Curtis
Alexandra Garcia 75–77
- Rabbit Proof Fence: a critical analysis*
Laura Hermannová 78–80
- The white-seared landscape: Walkabout as iconic Australian counterculture
Jack McDonald 81–83
- Stan Grant's 'Racism is Destroying the Australian Dream' speech
Sarah Payne 84–86
- Bronwyn Bancroft's Grandmother's Country: History, art and survival
Stephanie Rago 87–90
- Carpentaria: a foray into Indigenous consciousness*
Alessandra Solomon 91–94
- Reimagining the inheritance of loss of country: Stan Grant's Talking to My Country
Ruchira Talukdar 95–97

Site Visits

- Captain Cook's landing site, Kurnell
Madeline Cox 98–99
- I have a dream* mural site visit, Newtown
Zac Crellin 100–102
- Site visit to Victoria Park, Glebe
Emily Mundzic 103–104

Blog Posts

The politics of recognition Sara Borman	105–106
Making the case for constitutional reform Alice Taylor	107–108
Facing national historical guilt in teaching history: a comparison between Australia and Germany Hanna Rosalie Wortmann	109–110